Our Story

At ProperGate, we understand the problems posed by complex construction projects.

We know that from the start of construction, we also know the headache and frustration – because we've experienced it all first-hand.

What's different about ProperGate is that we're also experts in digitization.

So we know how to model that real-world complexity – and translate it into lines of code.

We also have an in-depth understanding of the needs of different job roles. So your people can get access to exactly the right information, in the right way, at the right time.

Hearing you focus on the part that you're good at.

Building things.

"A GOOD PLACE TO GET STARTED"

We had a need to get started and Buzzsprout makes that possible. It has a few setup options and allows you to start small without a large learning curve. It is easily upgradable so you can start small and then try new things.

Dave McCue, Catheline Community Church

"BUZZSPROUT IS AWESOME!"

The site has been truly awesome. It offers simple solution to hosting a podcast and offers you the choice of time you purchase each month. That alone is very useful and an amazing benefit.
